Here is the prize awarded to the firm
LUIGI ROCCA & SON est.1870
selected between the ten manufacturing excellences of the Lombard agricultural sector!

The reason is due to the long tradition of quality and received numerous awards and commendations in the long decades of presence on the Italian and international customers boasting the highest level that follows us just by rewarding loyalty to our brand.

You too can join this select group offering quality and tips that are valuable for us because we've always been pretty much a given the principle that the customer is the first reference on which to base our success.

We therefore propose an assortment of small but definite reference to the most ancient and ever valid tradition of the typical Italian appetizer as a complement, today more than in the past, and new dishes to the modern kitchen but also just as appetizing want next to a good start alone as an aperitif or a time they used to ...

The "Porcine Tradition Valtellina" is the product made from whole and sectioned fruiting bodies of Boletus edulis, Boletus aereus, Boletus reticulatus and Boletus pinicola.

The processes include procedures for careful selection of raw materials and cooking. The packaging is done manually by placing the fruiting bodies inside glass jars, possibly placing them in Bellavista checkerboard and adding decorative plants - particularly bay leaves - or containers made of tin cans.

The ingredients used are natural, without the use of synthetic flavoring, coloring and preservatives, in full compliance with local recipes, just like prevcde the production of canned home.

The skill in the preparation and packaging, which is made entirely by hand, allows you to get packs are unique in their kind, which are characterized by the high quality of the raw material and the characteristic composition - artistic craftsmanship.
